Alamo Draffthouse on South Lamar
Private Theater, limited to first 75 RSVP guest*

Pluck, and our parent company Demand Media is looking to hire QA and Software Development engineers and we're not above using a little bribe for a chance to introduce ourselves to you. That's why we're hosting a free showing of arguably the best of the Star Trek movies along with a deliciously gluttonous pizza buffet. We'll even buy the first round of beer!

"KHAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAN!!!"

Although Star Trek: The Motion Picture had been a box-office hit, it was by no means a unanimous success with Star Trek fans, who responded much more favorably to the "classic Trek" scenario of Star Trek II: The Wrath of Khan. Inspired by the "Space Seed" episode of the original TV series, the film reunites newly promoted Admiral Kirk with his nemesis from the earlier episode--the genetically superior Khan (Ricardo Montalban)--who is now seeking revenge upon Kirk for having been imprisoned on a desolated planet. While Mr. Spock mentors the young Vulcan Lt. Saavik (Kirstie Alley, Hello!), Kirk must battle Khan to the bitter end, through a climactic starship chase and an unexpected crisis that will cost the life of Kirk's closest friend. We'll be showing the "Director's Cut" with an 3 extra minutes of footage so good, they weren't included in the theatrical release!

The Fine Print: Your Resume is Your Ticket

So, what's the catch? Admission to the event is free - all we ask is that you send us your resume. You don't necessarily need to be looking for a job. You don't even have to pretend to be interested in working for us. Nothing wrong with just showing up for the movie and the food! We are actively hiring many positions though, including QA and Software Development engineers and we'd be happy to chat for a few minutes before the movie. If not, we figure at least you'll have heard of us next time you job-hunt. Space is limited, so we strongly recommend reserving your free seat ASAP by emailing your resume to:

KHAN@pluck.com

And you'll receive a confirmation-attendance number, confirming that you've been added to the guest list.
